Battle Lines Are Drawn for City's Election

Battle lines are drawn as the city's election races for two commission seats slip into their last week.

Battling it out for the at-large seat are four candidates. Eugene Hardson and Earl Armstrong are veterans of past city commission wars. Both were defeated by incumbent John Grady who has past up this year's race to shoot for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Republican incumbent Ed Gurney.

Newcomers to politics, but certainly not to Belle Glade are N.B. Willis and Thomas Altman. Willis, who at a reported 79 years of age is the oldest candidate running, has been in the race almost from the beginning.

Altman surprised everyone by resigning his post with the city and qualifying on the last afternoon to run for the at-large seat. Altman has lived almost all of his life in Belle Glade.

The other race plus incumbent Ralph Kirk against challenger Jerry Roberts. Roberts has also run and lost in city elections in the past. City Clerk Vera Jones reported there were registered voters in the city. Polling place for the city election will be different from polling places for county and state primaries being conducted the same day.

The only place city voters will be able to cast their ballots will be at the first station on Ave. A.

While the city election will be fairly straight forward and simple, the same cannot be said for the primary elections taking place the same day. There are registered voters in the Glades precincts.

In the U.S. Senate race alone the Democrats will have 11 people to choose from. Malory Horne, Richard Burns and Richard Pettigrew are given the best chance of making the run-off.

Other Democratic hopefuls are George Baines, David Higginbottom, Duane E. Macon, Glenn W. Turner, Robert Brewster, Burton Young, Bill Gunter and Neal Justin. Of those eight, the two who could give the front runners a battle for the runoff spots are Burton Young and Bill Gunter.

For the 11th District Congressional seat long time Rep. Paul Rogers has drawn taken opposition from Robert D. McHain. McHain's only other journey into politics saw him finish third in a race for Palm Beach County Sheriff.

Another Democratic horse race has been thrown together for governor. The incumbent, Reubin Askew, has drawn the opposition of his Lt. Governor, Tom Adams.

Adams has waged a strong campaign through a series of "Dear Reubin" letters which point out the short comings of the Askew administration.

Also running a surprisingly strong campaign for the top seat in the state is Ben Hill Griffin. Griffin's running mate for Lt. Governor is his wife, Eleanor. He is running on a platform that the Lt. Governor's position is not needed and he plans to abolish it by firing his wife if he wins.

Norman Bie is the fourth candidate and he is also running with a woman for Lt. Governor. Eleanor Bie is running with Tom Adams and Jim Williams is running with Askew.

The Secretary of State Race has drawn four opponents as well. They include Beverly Dossier, J.L. McMullen, Don Fride and Bruce Smathers.

Running for State Comptroller are Napoleon Bryant, Fred Dickinson and Gerald Lewis. The State Treasurer's race has

'Government Is Dissolved'

By Jerome Turk and Edward Walsh

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6, 1974

A slender, stooped delegate rose from his Windsor chair in Carpenters' Hall this morning to address a question of voting procedure here at the first continental Congress on its second day.

He looked to us like an aging country person, clad in severe gray and wearing an unpowdered wig with his small, round-lensed spectacles tilted up on it. As he started to speak slowly, haltingly, without notes, many of the 44 delegates (and my young colleague, Walsh, almost giving away our unauthorized presence) whispered, "Who is it?"

But when those clear, commanding words began to flow, everyone realized it could be but one man: Patrick Henry of Virginia.

"Government is dissolved. We are in a state of nature, sir!" declared Henry, transfixing the assembly with penetrating eyes and that strange, inquiring half-smile of his.

"The distinctions between Virginians, Pennsylvanians, New Yorkers and New Englanders are no more. I am not a Virginian, but an American!"

Henry stunned many listeners with his statesmanlike signaling the end of the present British government in the colonies.

This evening, between tankards of lemon punch laced with too-curling Jamaica rum here at Daniel Smith's elegant New City Tavern, the delegates are still discussing that passionate speech. John Jay, the wealthy and conservative young lawyer from New York, fears it could lead to mob rule.

Joseph Galloway of Pennsylvania thinks it dangerous and suspects the wily Adamesses, Samuel and John of Massachusetts, may have put the Virginian up to it. The Adamesses aren't talking, but we believe they're wearing secret smiles behind those poker faces.

Although no one, not even the militant Sam Adams, is breathing the word "independence" here, the Tory sheet, ROYALIST, has warned the delegates. "Your necks may be inconveniently lengthened."

This Congress, to be attended by representatives from 12 colonies (all but Georgia), was called to protect the recent Coercive Acts of the British parliament. These included the closing of the port of Boston following the Adams-inspired "tea party" last Dec. 16.

Walker Begins Fourth Decade

O'Neal Walker squeaked by Margie Henderson by 19 votes Tuesday night to enter into his fourth decade of service on the South Bay City Commission.

Victorious along with Walker was Donald Tanner, a field former for South Bay Growers. Tanner defeated former commissioner Howell Goodbread and political newcomer, Wilburn V. Finley.

In the only other race, Mayor Vernita Cox received 306 of the 373 votes cast running unopposed.

Less than 50 per cent of the registered voters in South Bay turned out to elect three city commissioners. Only 373 out of 751 registered bothered to go to the polls. Some 50 people were turned away because their names were not on the registration list for one reason or another.

Two incumbents, former mayor John Deaton and commissioner Esther Berry, did not seek re-election for another two year term. Deaton resigned once during his tenure of office, then reconsidered and came back to sit on the commission.

Deaton's resignation came at the time he was mayor. With his resignation Mrs. Cox was elevated from vice mayor to mayor to become the first black female mayor of any city in Palm Beach County.

Tanner's victory over his two opponents was by an impressive margin. By polling 196 votes to 76 for Goodbread and 42 for Finley, Tanner received enough support to escape a runoff.

Walker was first mayor of South Bay back in the 1940's. He served a term as mayor in the 50's and again in the late 60's. By winning in the 70's it makes his fourth decade in a row in which he has seen service on the commission.

"I thought it was a very clean campaign," said Walker after the votes had been counted. "I appreciate this from my opponent."

Walker said his first concern for the city of South Bay would be to improve the streets.

"Our streets are in awful bad shape," he said. "I really hope we can do something about this. But I don't like to say a whole lot of things about what we are going to do because I realize we are working with limited funds."

While streets were high up on his priority list as well, Tanner had a top drawer project which is likely to cause some controversy on the commission.

"First thing we need is a city manager," said Tanner. "Then I'd like to do something about the streets and the park."

The subject of a city manager has been a sore one in South Bay for quite some time. Both Mrs. Cox and Miss Berry were definitely for a city manager. Deaton was on the fence while Woody O'Neal and Neal Mayo, the other two commissioners in South Bay, were definitely against hiring a person to run the city.

With Tanner and Cox for a city manager and O'Neal and Mayo definitely against it, Walker will hold the key vote on the issue.

It was also pointed out after the election that it was going to be quite a confusing city commission as well. Keeping the names straight of O'Neal Walker, Wood O'Neal and Neal Mayo would be a woman's job for everyone concerned.

Hatton Calls for Unity

"Pledging complete and total support" for all Republican candidates running in the General Election this November, Betty Hatton, a candidate for Palm Beach County U. S. P. State Committeewoman, charged her incumbent opponent had not always supported Republicans in a speech prepared for a Young Republican Club meeting here.

In addition to a record of absenteeism that had the incumbent attending only two state committee meetings during the eight years she has held office, Mrs. Hatton said, "she has aligned herself with a small and divisive faction within our party who have openly supported Democratic candidates running against Republicans."

"That's a violation of the by-laws of the state committee and violation of the loyalty oath she signed," Mrs. Hatton charged.

"I will support all Republican candidates in the General Election this fall and I will work actively on their behalf just as I have in the past," Mrs. Hatton told the YR's.

Mrs. Hatton, mother of five and wife of western Palm Beach County produce grower J. Ray Hatton, is making her first bid for an elective office after some 20 years of active volunteer work in Palm Beach County Republican Party politics.

A Palm Beach County native, Mrs. Hatton has been an active community leader in her home town of Pahokee. She is completing a term as District 38 committeewoman and is a charter member and officer in the Glades Republican Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Phelps and their two daughters, Donna and Sherrie, are seen above touring Walt Disney World just outside of Orlando. The family was sent there as a result of their winning The Herald's Summer Me promotion contest this summer. While the Phelps were in the Orlando area they were guests of the Royal Inn in Lake Buena Vista courtesy of The Herald. Over 5,000 entries were received during the contest which proved so popular plans are to send another local family to Walt Disney World again next year.

Vote for Susan

We normally stay out of the primary voting battles, but there are a couple coming up which directly concern the Glades.

We once again have a chance to send a local person to Tallahassee. Susan Weaver, raised in the Glades, her father, Bud Weaver, representing the Glades on the county commission, is running for State House Seat No. 81.

She is going up against the incumbent Dave Clark in the Republican primary. You may join with us in asking, "Who's he?"

He may have been one of our representatives over the past two years—but we certainly haven't seen him nor hear of him. As far as we know this coastal attorney hasn't campaigned in the Glades. Guess there aren't enough votes out here to make us important to his campaign.

But in asking all Republicans to vote for Susan Weaver this coming Tuesday and then asking everyone to vote for her again on Nov. 5, we are not just practicing geographical jingoism.

Susan Weaver is an intelligent, charming young woman who would be a great credit to any area she might represent. She has some good ideas for the state of Florida and the energy to carry them out.

A vote for Susan Weaver wouldn't be just a vote for the Glades. It would be a vote which would help the entire state of Florida.

...And Betty Too

Another Republican race is of great local interest to the Glades.

Betty Hattson is running for State Committee Woman. If elected she would go to the next Republican nominating convention as a voting delegate. While her one conservative voice might not make any difference alone, blended with others just like it, it might help put this country back on the road to fiscal sanity.

Mrs. Hattson showed both her conservatism and her class at a recent meeting when she admitted she was abashed at the choice of Nelson Rockefeller for vice president. But she said now that her president had made the choice, she would back him all the way.

This is the type person Betty Hattson is. She is a party woman all the way, but she is not afraid to voice her opinion. The Republican Party would do well to send her to the next Republican National Convention.

Oh, And Paul as Well

It is almost ludicrous to urge the people of the Glades to vote for Paul Rogers, U.S. Representative for the 11th District.

He has been our representative for almost two decades now—and before that his father. But that is not the reason we should vote for him.

Paul Rogers has indeed been a friend of the Glades. He has helped our community as a whole and several people in it as individuals. He has always responded to our needs.

What a shame it would be to lose him. But we don't think it could happen this year. Make sure, though, okay? Do yourself a big favor and vote for Paul Rogers Tuesday.

Poor John

We were raised in a very conservative journalism philosophy which had among its rules that everyone was treated equal in the news pages.

No matter whether we were personally a liberal or personally a conservative or somewhere in between, anyone who made legitimate news was given coverage.

So we find it difficult to accept that certain parts of the media will not give any space what so ever, earned or otherwise, to this area's ultra-conservative candidate for the U.S. Senate, John Grady.

Grady has lost out of this time, John Grady. But we really never believed him. But during his push for the U.S. Senate it has become quite clear certain areas of the media are ignoring him altogether.

For instance, a large metropolitan coastal newspaper recently put out a "Know Your Candidate" supplement. It carried something about all the races and all the candidates—or almost all.

Nowhere in the supplement was Grady's name to be found. It wasn't even mentioned that he might have a chance to get on the ballot. After collecting almost 150,000 signatures on a petition asking the state of Florida to do so.

We don't care if you don't agree with Grady's philosophies. Anybody who can organize a campaign to get 150,000 signatures on a petition is news.

If he runs and loses we are sure that will be reported. It is a bad day when the media brings you only that news which it can agree.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

I was disappointed to find you devoting nearly half a page recently to exposure of quackery in religion. Facts are, there is quackery in many professions, including medicine, nursing, education, and politics.

Our country provides for freedom of religion, which to some eccentric sects means the freedom to handle serpents, refuse blood transfusions, refuse all medicines, the help of medical doctors; indeed, the freedom even to worship the devil and practice witchcraft.

Fortunately the majority of Americans are intelligent enough to sense and avoid quackery. The fool is the person who responds to quack financial appeals, whether by letter, mailings offering trinkets, or emotional appeals from pulpits, storefronts, tent preachers, and/or other religious circles.

Many of us in the respectable denominations believe in plain biblical teachings without resort to supplements from church suppers, bazaars, rummage sales, raffles, bingo games, or what have you.

The two most outstanding evangelists in the United States, Dr. Billy Graham (Southern Baptist) and Dr. Oral Roberts (United Methodist).

MANAGING GUY YOUR MONEY
FACTS TO HELP YOU

"But I Haven't Any Money." If that's your problem, there's a way to start accumulating money—starting now. When you pay your bills each month, why not stop to the front of the line and pay yourself first?

Very few people have had the opportunity to acquire a large sum of money except through accumulation of small sums taken from income over a long period of time.

The sooner an accumulation plan is started, the less painful it is likely to be during the working years. A 30-year old person who chooses an investment vehicle such as a mutual fund, which might return 10% a year on average, need not only $28 dollars a month in such a fund, but need to accumulate $100,000 by age 65. Starting at age 40, it would require nearly three times the $28 a month to accumulate the same amount by age 65.

"Well managed mutual funds offer an excellent way to accumulate capital over a long period of time" says C.H. Emillion, President of Putnam Fund Distribution, Inc., a subsidiary of The Putnam Companies, Inc., which manages more than $3 billion for individuals and institutional investors. "History shows that if we go back to World War II and look at each of the 10-year periods from the beginning of 1946 to the beginning of 1956 (a total of nine years), the average annual rate of return for the total return for the average mutual fund (including reinvestment of all dividends and distributions) was 10.5%.

Even allowing for the 4.3% average rate of inflation, this means a real growth of 5.9%. Assuming your money was left to accumulate in a savings plan, inflation practically eliminated any real growth.

While there is no assurance that future mutual fund performance will duplicate the past, this form of investing should be considered and thoroughly explored by anyone who wants to plan for financial independence.

Rev. Abe S. Gator, Pastor, Presbyterian Church

Dear Editor -

As an out of town reader I do enjoy the Herald's lustrous tiling with the windmills of daily public interest, so I must preface this with a little phrase such as "They were such nice guys, what a shame!"

I refer, of course, to the anguished editorial page in a recent issue which endeavored to explain how sorely those pure intentions were distorted when you asked, and received, permission to re-print a very bad taste cartoon titled "Nixonocchio."

Your fellow publisher in West Palm, blythe reported the favor he'd done, interpreting the request as a sure indication that even Belle Glade had finally seen the light.

The reaction was so reminiscent of the politician or, for that matter, the little John Q. Public, who opens his morning paper to read his most recent interview and screams "That wasn't what I meant!"

Ah, the power of the media.

the beginning of 1946 to the beginning of 1956 (a total of nine years), the average annual rate of return for the total return for the average mutual fund (including reinvestment of all dividends and distributions) was 10.5%.

Even allowing for the 4.3% average rate of inflation, this means a real growth of 5.9%. Assuming your money was left to accumulate in a savings plan, inflation practically eliminated any real growth.

While there is no assurance that future mutual fund performance will duplicate the past, this form of investing should be considered and thoroughly explored by anyone who wants to plan for financial independence.

George III - "he was interrupted by cries of 'Treason! Treason!' Whereupon Henry coolly concluded: "George III may profit by their example. If this be treason, make the most of it!"

Patrick Henry, a champion of our safety, the delegates to this Congress have pledged to keep their deliberations a secret. But few if any know Henry's own tragic secret.

We have learned that his wife of 20 years, mother of his six children, has gone mad. Even at this moment, Sarah Henry, 36, is violent, often kept in a straitjacket and confined in a basement room reached through a trap door in the family mansion at Scotchtown.

At age 38, Patrick Henry confides to his closest friends, "I feel like an old, broken man." And he looks it, too. Yet his speeches are more daring, defiant and vigorous than ever.

off the record

I made a bet Thursday I hope I lose! But I think it's a pretty safe one.

I went over to Delray Beach to sit in on the State Rd. 80 meeting. Phil Lewis had set up with the DOT. It was supposed to be a head knocking session to get some problems solved and get the road under construction as soon as possible.

When halfway through the meeting it was apparent absolutely nothing was going to be accomplished. I jotted down a quick bet on my notepad and shoved it in front of State Rep. Tom Lewis who was also at the meeting.

On it I had written that I would bet him a steak dinner that construction on State Rd. 80 wouldn't even begin before June 1, 1975.

"You got a bet," was Lewis' written reply. Poor Tom, hope his legislator's salary can stand the price of a steak dinner for a big eater like me.

As I walked out of the meeting (they were getting ready to go onto another subject) I patted Phil Lewis on the shoulder and told him the people in the Glades really appreciated his concern. But I told him he would have to keep kicking those fellows down at the other end of the table (DOT) in the rear end every month or so or nothing would get done.

Despite a sincere attempt by the Lewis boys to get the Department of Transportation off square one the meeting probably hindered the beginning of construction on State Rd. 80 more than it helped.

Field Engineer Ben Simpson was his usual unctuous self assuring everyone in the room that the DOT really did want to build that road. Yet, nothing really could get going until Belle Glade made arrangements with the DOT on financing the relocation of utilities inside the city.

This statement once again showed the DOT's right hand didn't know what the left hand was doing. It has taken one quickie. He said the city and DOT had already agreed to let the contractors who bid on the four-laning bid the utilities' relocation an alternate. Then the city could decide whether to accept that bid or have it done themselves.

Simpson professes to know nothing of that. But even so, nothing could be done until the city had the plans for the relocation of the utilities into the hands of the DOT. And then one of Simpson's men chipped in with the fact that even with all the facts in from everybody the bids couldn't be let for at least another 90 days. And no, nothing could be done before all the facts were in to shorten that 90 day period.

The city's engineers have promised the DOT all of the information it needs within 60 days on utility relocation. Simpson pointed out that even after all that information was in his department would have to study it to make sure everything they needed was there. If it wasn't, of course, there would be more delay.

If the city's engineers handle State Rd. 80 the same way they handle the sewer information that 60 days will stretch to 180 and all the information still won't be in the DOT's hands.

Baker brought up one good point. He said to reason out a four-laning this road had been going on for at least eight years that he knew of-how come all of a sudden something like utility relocation was holding up the whole shooting match. Surely it was something which could have been planned ahead.

After really solving nothing on the first stretch of the road attention was turned to the latest bonanza of the DOT, the great right-of-way robbery along the 13.7 mile stretch from the court house to 441.

It became quite apparent that instead of trying to reason out a problem with a fellow state agency, the DOT just stuck out its lower lip, conducted another one of its infamous studies (such studies brought you the 12-month late, one-half mile foot strip) and decided to destroy almost 900 acres of top quality sugar cane land.

The original right-of-way called for 100 feet on either side of the section line. This the hard working chairman of the Canal Hazards Safety Committee, Frank Jones, had gotten about 80 per cent donated. Taking 100 feet from either side of the section line usually involved two different farmers, thereby not hurting either man a great deal.

For the road was to come out of FCD canals. But the FCD wanted the DOT to dig out some canals over 20 miles away. This would have made the dot prohibitive. But saying, hey, come on folks let's be a little more reasonable, the DOT conducted a study.

What it came up with struck fear into the hearts of many here. It decided on at least a 400 foot right of way all on the same side of the section line. It would purchase borrow pits along the way, thereby destroying even more good cane land.

The 400-foot figure was conservative, as well. It could go as high as 550. Putting it all on one side of the section line takes it all away from one owner, rather than splitting it between owners on either side of the section line.

While 80 per cent would donate under the old right-of-way plan, 100 per cent would fight the new one. This means time and money wasted in the courts.

So now a meeting has been set up between the DOT and the FCD to see if something can't be worked out.

Tom Adams, Democratic candidate for Governor, made a very good point while stamping Belle Glade the other day. He said the budget for the DOT has doubled over the past four years, yet the percentage of money actually being spent for roads is less.

It is quite easy to see why.

Idyllic Euphoria

Twas the night before recess, and all thru the House

Not a motion was stirring, not even on Leno.

Amendments were tucked under blotters with care.

And the thoughts were on votes—don't disturb Medicare.

When out on the Mall there arose such a chatter,

Georgetown solons sprang up as the nighttime did shatter.

They called out their chauffeurs, they pulled on their pants,

And down M Street they rode to stem any perchance

Interruption to freedom that would delay departure.

Recess would be observed, though it meant special cloture.

As the Mall came in sight, apprehension and fear were predominant thru the election no more.

What if Dow Jones had dropped; or beef prices had soared?

If a new scandal popped, whose ox had been goared?

Had defection claimed Henry; perhaps even Dick?

Would emergency sessions cover up what was sick?

So we close out the scene on the suffering Pol from the Environmental Protection Agency on the proposed sewer line extension. Several of the septic tanks in Lewis park were malfunctioning and the city wanted to extend the sewer line into it.

But it wasn't sure if this was legal under the Temporary Operating Permit it now finds itself under.

The EPA said, however, that since the septic tanks were existing before March 7, 1971—the date the present building moratorium went into effect—it was okay to extend the line into them.

Lewis stated that three septic tanks were leaking badly and that the only other alternative would be to move the trailers out and put in new tanks.

The commission told him to extend the sewer line as soon as possible.

Tax Classes

To Begin

How complicated are income taxes?

"With constantly changing forms, new tax laws, and amendments to existing tax laws, a special education is needed for an individual to prepare even his own tax return," stated Walter Gray, manager of the H & R Block office in Belle Glade.

No one is more aware of the complexity of income taxes than H & R Block, the nation's largest tax preparation firm. Each year Block operates tax schools in more than 2,000 communities throughout the country for people who want to know more about taxes.

The schools teach both basic and advanced courses to thousands of persons, many of whom want to learn to prepare their own income tax returns and others who want to become professional tax preparers.

Classes for the Basic Income Tax School begin in mid-September and continue for just over 18 weeks. This year there will be a minimum of 81 hours of instruction, taught by veteran Block employees. The cost is $75.

"Anyone may enroll," Gray said. "No previous tax experience or accounting knowledge is required. Many enrollees are housewives, college students, retired persons and, of course, those seeking careers in tax preparation," Gray said.

FIRE IN THE NIGHT

If you awoke at night and found your home ablaze, would your escape be quick and orderly, or would you become a victim of bewilderment and panic? Lack of proper planning and knowing what to do have been found to be the greatest causes of death and injury from fires which break out at night.

Hundreds of persons, predominantly women and children, lose their lives in fires each year because of lack of proper planning. Many could have been saved had provision been made for a second means of escape.

Always plan your living quarters so that there is more than one readily useable exit from each occupied room. For upper story windows, a rope ladder should be stored in a handy location near the window. Always plan to close bedroom doors upon retiring. It will block flames long enough to allow room occupants to escape.

Now You Can Put Yourself in This Picture

Imagine. Your family in a new home... a first home... a dream home. One that has a play-yard for the children... a real laundry room... a wood-burning fireplace. Ahh. You think it won't ever happen? We think it could! Come and talk to us. We'll give you all the facts about our Mortgage Loans.

Lions Offer to Pay

The Belle Glade Lions Club offered to pay back rent to the city on their building in the form of improvements to the civic center.

Lion President Lenwood Fuller made the proposal to the city commission at its regular Tuesday night meeting. He was chided good humoredly as being a very untypical banker when he said if planned improvements went over the back debt the Lions Club could use up future rent money with no interest charged to the city.

The Lions proposed to put new black-out shades around the entire building and across the glass doors. A proposal to carpet the stage area met with disapproval due to the character of some of the presentations at the civic center.

However City Commissioner William Græar did suggest the Lions look into the possibility of putting a curtain around the stage for theater productions.

The Lions were given the go ahead for the black-out shades and new curtain rods, for existing curtains. And they "practical precinct by precinct politics," Mrs. Hutton is calling for an end to party in-fighting in the county.

"Palm Beach County Republicans need a new show of unity," she said.

"The divisive tactics of factions within our party that has been marked by more news coverage than it has deserved needs to end. We need to settle our disagreements in an orderly fashion among ourselves without all the press fanfare," she said.

"It's time Palm Beach County Republicans pulled together against Democrats and not against each other," she stressed.

Mrs. Hutton has been actively campaigning for the state post visiting Republican gatherings across the county for the past several weeks. A crowded agenda of meetings awaits her as the campaign winds into its final week.

Mrs. Hutton is a candidate in the Sept. 10th primary election.

Omicron Iota Holds Luncheon

Omicron Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a Beginning Day Luncheon August 23 at the home of Chapter President Mrs. Charles Schiele.

Mrs. Dudley Barnes designed the star-shaped invitations which invited the members to "step" into Mrs. Schiele's home for a happy day.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Schiele presented the Sorority's scrapbook for the 1973-74 year to Mrs. Zitter. Plans were discussed for this year's "Climb to Happiness" in Beta Sigma Phi. Everyone agreed the best beginning is to join in friendship and fellowship and to have a happy day.

Tom Zitter, immediate past president of the chapter, presented the Program Awards. This award is given to the person whose cultural program is voted by the members to be the most enjoyable during the past year.

Mrs. Dudley Barnes and Mrs. Frank Teets received the Award for their joint program on "The Good." Illustrating the good, they reviewed Anita Bryant's books about her life as a Christian. Mrs. Boy Hayes also received the Award for her program on "The Body Beautiful." Mrs. Hayes talked about how the shape of a person's hand often reveals their personality, talent, and good or bad traits.

Scholarships Available

College scholarships, from $500 to $5,000, are available to all high school seniors through the Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, formerly the Betty Crocker Search for American House-makers of Tomorrow.

An invitation to enroll in the program will soon be mailed to all high schools across the nation. School's new to the event are invited to write the Betty Crocker Search, P.O. Box 1113, Minneapolis, Minn. 55440, for information.

Enrollment deadline is October 31.

On Tuesday, Dec. 3, each participating school will administer a 50-minute written examination. Prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago, this general knowledge and attitude examination is the first important step of the scholarship program.

From the examination results, a Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow will be chosen for each participating school. School winners are acknowledged with special awards and their examinations are entered in state competition.

Each State Family Leader of Tomorrow receives a $1,500 college scholarship while every state second-place winner receives a $500 grant. The state winner also earns for his or her school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America" from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

State winners accompanied by a faculty advisor will be the guests of General Mills next spring on an expense-paid educational tour, which will include Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Virginia. A special event of the tour is announcement of the All American Family Leader of tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $15,000. Second, third and fourth place winners in the nation will receive scholarship increases to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

Two Candidates Speak their Minds

Eugene Harrison Lever 5A

KNOW YOUR CANDIDATE

Eugene Harrison was born in South Bay, Florida in 1938. His childhood days were spent in the nearby community of Lake Harbor on a United Sugar Corporation Camp. He attended Rosenwald Elementary School and graduated from Lake Shore High School in Belle Glade. Being mostly self-supported, he worked as a migrant laborer during his high school years.

After completing high school he volunteered for the U.S. Army where he served for four years and earned the rank of Sergeant in nineteen months. He was assigned to the Military Police and served in Germany for 37 months. He ended his military career in 1962.

Upon returning to civilian life he joined the Belle Glade Police Department as a patrolman and served for approximately three years.

Resigning from the Police Department in 1964, he enrolled in Tennessee State University in Nashville, Tennessee where he received a B.S. Degree in Construction Engineering. He then returned to Lake Shore High School as an instructor for three years. He also did graduate work at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, Florida where he earned a M.S. Degree in Guidance and Counseling and certified in Administration and Supervision. He is presently serving as the administrative assistant of the Community Action Migrant Program in the Glades Area.

He is married to Josephine Harrison, a guidance counselor at Gove Elementary School. They have three children, Malcolm 6, Michelle 4, and Mark 2. They reside at 1241 S.W. Ave. B Place in Belle Glade.

Harrison was instrumental in getting summer jobs for 167 students in the Glades Area according to their needs regardless of race or national origin.

He is a member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. Prince Hall Grand Lodge Okeechobee No. 54, and of Palm Beach County Advisory Board to the Board of County Commissioners.

Harrison is totally committed to using his best talents and energies to help Belle Glade become a progressive Model City for all, from the very young to the senior citizens. He feels that this is possible in terms of the total community development and in the area of human relations.

Priorities of Commitments

1. Expansion of city sewage

Reason: At present the city cannot expand because of lack of city sewage and water facilities. If Belle Glade is to grow we have to plan more thoroughly in these areas so that more homes can be built.

2. Oppose to building a new city hall

Reason: It is my personal feeling that the city of Belle Glade does not warrant a complex of this nature at this time. If we would plan on expanding city sewage and improving our water facilities which would allow for more houses to be built, then the city could receive from them revenue which would help to support the building of a new complex as opposed to higher taxation of the people. The estimated cost of the new construction is 1.066 million dollars.

3. City streets--continuous improvement of streets

Reason: At present the streets in the south west section of our city have been under construction for approximately seven months and they are presently in very poor condition. Many of our citizens have not been able to utilize these streets and some have had to leave their cars in their driveways or park far distances from where they live. Some of this could be alleviated with more extensive planning.

4. Comprehensive recreation program

Reason: The city needs a viable recreation program which would include recreation for the young children to the senior citizens. The youth of this city do not have anything constructive to do much of the time, therefore, we find many of them on the streets. I would ask that surveys be made of other cities with functioning recreation programs and with modification, we could develop our own to best suit our particular needs.

5. Low cost housing and city municipal trailer park

Reason: Homes are very much needed and the lower income families cannot afford the conventional home at the present cost and interest rate. With my experience in writing proposals to the Federal Government for grants, I would try to initiate a low cost housing program as soon as possible. I also feel that the city should construct a municipal trailer park. The city could then receive revenue from this venture which in essence would subsidize itself and at a future date could become a 65% profit making venture for the city.

Eugene Harrison The People's Candidate

Roberts--2A Speaks

It never ceases to amaze me how politicians are unable to recognize the citizen across the street until three weeks before election.

In the past, it seemed the prerequisite for soliciting votes in a city election here in Belle Glade was simply to declare, "I am a good man, and I have lived in the city for a long time," and, PRESTO, election is guaranteed. Beyond meeting the above criteria, I have more to offer.

I have a passionate interest in improving -- both physical and social -- in Belle Glade, and in so doing, it will positively affect all residents. The three basic needs have been defined as food, clothing and shelter, and needed to complement or enhance those needs are employment, health services and recreation.

In the past, the Belle Glade City Commission has been noted for its anti-federal funds policy. I contend that the City needs all funds available if the needs of the poor are to be considered. For some Belle Glade residents, attracting and utilizing federal funds may well mean mere survival.

Shelter is one of the basic needs, and with the cost of construction and scarcity of money to lend for the purpose of building, it is difficult for the city to dictate to property owners what rent rates should be. But, every resource should be exhausted to secure housing for low-income families and senior citizens on fixed incomes.

Poverty and unemployment breed crime. With the Glades growing literally sweeter and sweeter everyday with a booming sugar cane industry, the unemployment rates are bound to increase. Unemployment means crime, sometimes to survive. And crime means jail. And jail means a blurred record. And a blurred record means you cannot get a decent job -- back in the same boat!! It's a vicious circle (cycle) that needs to be combatted.

I feel we can increase employment by: (1) having other industries to come into the area; (2) provide training in marketable skills applicable to industrial activity (existing and potential) in this area. In my opinion, we will be more successful getting skills to fit the job as opposed to jobs to fit the skills.

In the past, I have known our municipal court to take in more than $100,000 a year, which causes me to tremble and wonder. I tremble when I think of what the crime rate must be to produce this magnitude of revenue. It makes you wonder whether or not the municipal court system is indeed a money-making-escape.

I feel that:

1. Every effort should be made to speed up the merger of the municipal court system with the county courts.

2. As long as the courts stay in the city's hands, each offender's rights should be read when arrested.

3. A speaker system should be used to demonstrate a public trial -- not a closed conference with the judge.

4. The tenure of the judge should not be more than two (2) years.

5. The illegal harassment by policemen of local residents should be stopped.

6. Immediate steps should be taken to improve the deplorable and inhuman conditions of the city jail.

7. Policemen need more training and educational programs. We must fight to strengthen the relationships between residents and policemen. We should see policemen as friends who protect us and not enemies to destroy us -- or meet quotas. Respect should be mutual and reciprocal.

8. The women need a separate cell section with bathing facilities, so they won't be exposed to the view of male prisoners and subject to attacks.

When I think of the marina, bars and country club, it appears that recreation and amusement is only guaranteed to those citizens eighteen and over. Today I see children at age six living the life that some of our senior citizens now look back on with resentment. We, the voters, along with the city fathers must be charged with neglecting our children until an alternative is provided.

I feel that:

1. We need a comprehensive recreational program for the youth of our community.

2. Development of parks and recreation areas in heavy population density areas with facilities to accommodate all age groups.

3. No leases or privileges granted to private interests in local controlled areas.

While wading through muddy alleys and walking damp hallways with dismal lighting on the campaign trail, I saw poverty at its worst and misery multiplied by sickness which reinforces my position that medicine should be a right.

1. I feel that efforts should be made to secure more medical bodies.

2. I support the expansion of health services and facilities.

3. I support full time ambulance services.

Though the problems of our city are many, I feel strongly that the aforementioned, in addition to those listed below should be given a high precedence.

1. Adequate sewer and water facilities.

2. Governmental "Self-Sustaining" and revenue producing projects that will provide jobs and keep tax rates down.

3. A municipal trailer park.

4. Remove the dumpsters off the streets.

5. Pave all streets and fix pot holes.

6. A new bridge at the dike.

I am running for office because I feel I can get the job done.

For twenty-four of my twenty-eight years of living, I have lived with the problem. I know the problem too well. I am very reliable, tolerant of others and fair. I will be responsive to the community at large and not just one side of town, a small interest group or clique, or simply do nothing. I will work to trim the budget and not the tax payers. For progress we must have a system, which is nothing more than an orderly group of practices and principles. But a system without a place for humanity will leave the hands of the people everytime to become a machine (inflexible). I am not a professional politician but a professional human being with prayers and a desire to rid our community of its problems.

Ballot Set for Election

drawn Thomas O'Malley, Fitzhugh Powell and Jack Shreve. Ed Penn Jr., John S. Shipp, Sheila King, Ralph Turlington and Zella Maynard have all entered the Commission of Education race.

The public Service Commission race finds Alice Hastings and William Mayo battling it out, while Harry Johnston and Michael Small fight it out for State Senate, 28th District.

In the 28th State Senate District Don Childers, John Jordan and Donald Walker square off against each other. The 30th Senate District has drawn three candidates as well for the Democrats, William Tillett, Morris Tucker and Mike Zealy.

In the three house of Representative races the 79th District pits Andy Andrews against Gene Campbell. The 81st District finds Gerald Cornelius against Edward Healy and the 82nd District has John Considine running against Donna Cotton.

On the county level Beulah Beasley goes against Jackie Winchester in the Supervisor of Elections race, while Grace Bliz faces Joseph De Marco and Bill Medlen for County Commission District.

Rounding out the Democratic primary are votes for party delegates to the 1974 convention in both District 10 and 11. In district 10 democrats can vote for two of four which include Morris Bishop, Alice Madray, Donald Davis and Norine Turner.

In district 11 two of four must be picked from Joseph Baird, Doris Downey, Don Childers and Robert McRae. William Bemis, Carl Pulte and Charles Whitman are running for the South Lake Worth Inlet District 2 seat.

The Republicans have it a little easier, beginning right off with the U.S. Senate race. Jack Eckerd, who lost to then incumbent governor Claude Kirk in a Republican primary tries again against Paula Hawkins.

And while the Democratic hopefuls will be battling it out for governor and possibly stepping on a lot of people's egos, the Republicans have united solidly behind one man, Jerry Thomas.

For State Treasurer the Republicans get a choice of Jeffrey Latham and Gene Tabbs. In the 28th District Senate race Al Cogler is running against incumbent Tom Johnson. In the 30th District Lyman Allen, Betty Athanassakos and Jon C. Thomas are all running.

In the 51st District for the House, Glades reared Susan Weaver is attempting to unseat incumbent attorney Dave Clark.

In the County Commission District 4 race William Cruickshank and Norman Wymbs have lowered their sights on incumbent George Warren.

In strictly party races J. Reeve Bright and V.C. Stewart will battle it out for State Committee Man, while Patricia Kelly's Betty Hutton is running for State Commissioner of Woman against Ann Cassidy.

The South Lake Worth Inlet District is pretty popular with republicans with them having primary candidates in districts one, two and three. Running in district one are Patricia Kramer and Burton Moore, in district 2 it is Myron Leedy and Colin Varnes, while in District 3 a three way race is shaping up between David Geller, Thomas Hood and George Kelley.

Non-partisan races for the state Supreme Court include Joe Boyd against River Buford in Group 2, Shelby Highsmith and Ben Overton in group 3 and Arthur England and Sam Spector in group 4.

Of course, Ford's Clearance prices are low to begin with, but this year there are plenty of other good reasons to buy a new 1974 Ford.

- If you wait until the 75's come out, you'll pay a lot more.
- We need used cars, so we're giving big trade-in allowances.
- We have to move the 74's off the lot to make room for the 75's.

Eugene Harrison The People's Candidate

Dear Citizens,

As a candidate for city commissioner, I ask you to check my background history, my work experience, and my willingness to be involved in serving the people, then I think that you will find that I am well qualified for this position.

I will further ask that you judge me objectively, checking my credentials against the credentials of my opponents. If you do this objectively, I feel that I will gain your support.

I want to be considered as the people's candidate which allows me to work for all the people without being obligated to address my self to certain organizations or interest groups. However, this does not mean that I would not work with organizations which are for the betterment of Belle Glade.

Remember, being objective is very hard sometimes, but in the end it is the best way. I solicit your support.

Sincerely yours,

Eugene Harrison

How To Brew A Better Cup Of Coffee

Making great coffee needn't be a grind, if you follow a few simple rules.

The coffee pot must be thoroughly cleaned to insure the best possible brew.

The next essential is fresh coffee. Storing coffee in the refrigerator helps retain its freshness.

Measure precisely: 2 level tsp. of coffee for every 6 ounces of water. This formula pleases most people and is recommended by coffee experts.

What method should you use: drip or percolator? Most experts prefer the drip filter technique. They feel that perking over-extracts coffee and, because it boils the coffee, results in a bitter taste. With the drip filter method, water passes through the coffee just once.

In the past, many people simply didn't want to bother with clumsy, hard-to-operate drip filter equipment. Now Norelco has marketed a fully automatic Drip Filter Coffee Maker. Since the coffee never boils or perks, it has no chance to become bitter. And it brews a full 12 cups in just 7 minutes.

One final tip: serve your coffee with cream that has been brought to room temperature. This cools the coffee as little as possible—and wins heart-warming praise from your guests!

The matron of honor's dress was a floor length yellow dress with an empire waist and short bell sleeves. She also wore a yellow picture hat and carried a basket of yellow and white daisies. The bridesmaids' dresses were similar to that of the matron of honor's but they were dressed in the color green. They also carried baskets of yellow and white daisies.

Inquiring Gardener

Q. Insects are chewing my grass, what can I do to prevent this?

A. To prevent extensive damage by insect pests, homeowners should make frequent inspections of their lawns, especially during the spring and summer, so that insect infestations can be found early and treatments applied promptly. The damage is not always immediately obvious and often reaches an advanced stage before it is recognized.

Lawn insects can be divided into two categories - Surface insects, which include armyworms, cutworms, grubs, and sodwebworms, and Sub-Surface insects such as Bermudagrass mites, billbug grubs, white grubs, ground pearls, mole crickets and nematodes.

In general, surface insects destroy grass by chewing blades or extruding plant juices. They often burrow into thatch, or debris above the soil during the day and do their damage at night. Sub-surface insects cause destruction by devouring grass roots. Each type of insect may be in or out of the soil during certain stages of their life cycle.

The following conditions may be indications of surface active insects: Large numbers of birds feeding on the turf - Small moths observed flying across the surface of the lawn - Grass blades chewed off just above the soil level - Dying out of turf along curbs and sidewalks - A residue of chewed grass among the damage grass plants.

Indications of sub-surface insects - Grass roots chewed just below the soil surface - Individual plants can be easily pulled from the soil - Overall thinning of the turf.

CONTROL - Chinchbugs - Baygon, Diazinon, Ethon, Tribione, V-C-18, or Dursban is sprays, or granulated forms of any of the above. Sodwebworms - Armyworms - Sevin or Diazinon - Cutworms - Chlordane. When treating for sub-surface active insects it is important to use large amounts of water to get the insecticide down to where the insects are feeding. If large amounts of water cannot be applied with the sprays, irrigate after spraying. Bermudagrass mite - Diazinon, Billbug, White grub-chordane, Mole crickets - Chlordane, Diazinon, Nematodes - Serenex, Nemagon.

NOW IS THE TIME

My Friends:

Many people in Belle Glade were surprised when I recently qualified to run for the City Commission. Their surprise was understandable as I discussed this decision with no one other than my family. As much as I would have valued prior consultation with my friends and community leaders, I felt it would be improper to discuss a potential candidacy for the City Commission while maintaining a position as a City employee. Hopefully, none of my friends were surprised by my sincere concern for this town and its people which prompted my decision to run.

I would like to share with you some ideas on the previously undiscussed issues:

(1) Water and Sewer Improvements - the City's engineers are drawing plans and specifications for extensive water and sewer improvements at this very moment. Within the next six months major decisions will have to be made on these proposed projects, including method of financing, scheduling, scope of improvements, customer rate structure, and contractual procedures for construction. I am familiar with the water and sewer system, both from an engineering standpoint and as a practical matter. I feel the City should take all necessary action to insure the most environmentally acceptable sewer system possible, while at the same time take a hard line with regulatory agencies which, through unreasonable attitudes, cripple the housing and building industry in Belle Glade.

(2) Housing - the insufficient supply of adequate housing in our community is becoming an increasingly disturbing problem, due in part to the building moratorium. Hopefully, sewer improvements will soon release our builders to begin adding to the housing market. Furthermore, some of the older structures in Belle Glade need improvements, which can be accomplished by joint efforts of the City and private enterprise. President Ford recently signed into law the Community Development Act which could provide considerable funding to the City for financing of these improvements. This is a new type program, without the customary "federal strings" attached, and would give broad discretionary powers to the City Commission on the allocation of this money. I have followed this program from its inception and am prepared to make knowledgeable decisions on this program.

(3) City Hall and Fire Station - I support the construction of a new city hall and fire station. I qualify this statement only by saying it should be within budgetary limitations as established by a long range financing plan. Ten years ago a new city hall was labeled "top priority" by the City's leaders at that time. The need has increased drastically in the last few years. The Police Department is in embarrassing shape and the working conditions there are almost unbearable. The existing fire station and city hall should be remodeled to create an adequate police complex. City offices should be combined in one building with facilities to properly serve the citizens. The Fire Department needs additional space to house our firefighting equipment and to provide training areas. I would not support any of these improvements if it would mean the sacrificing of necessary sewer improvements. I am convinced that satisfactory city hall construction and sewer improvements can both be accomplished in an orderly fashion.

(4) Beautification - the City government and its citizens must work together on the beautification of our town. We can make Belle Glade an attractive community—one in which we can all be proud to live. I would support the creation of a special City crew to deal solely with beautification projects, including landscaping, junk car removal, weed and litter control, and cooperative efforts with private beautification projects.

During my 18 years in Belle Glade I have come to know many of you and I can't imagine a better group of people anywhere. We have so much potential in this town of ours. Let us work together and do the things I know we're capable of.

Sincerely,

Thomas Altman

News From The Home Front

The Belle Glade Herald, Sept. 5, 1974, 1B

Labor Day--How Sweet It Was!

It was a very quiet and peaceful Labor Day in Belle Glade as a photographic survey of local construction jobs proved.

With over 9,000 unemployed in Palm Beach County, the workers in Belle Glade has a great deal to be thankful for with all of the construction work underway. At the top is pictured the biggest job in perhaps the entire county at present, the estimated $21 million expansion to the Sugar Cane Growers Co-Op sugar mill on Airport Rd.

Just below is the classical new building being built by Everglades Federal Savings and Loan on North Main St. And below it is the beautiful new building being constructed by B. D. Ogle Insurance Co. on South Main St. These three buildings are only a few of the new ones under construction which has taken up the slack in the lack of new home building.

So really, it doesn't matter as the old song goes, east side, west side, all around the town--Belle Glade is growing--just not on holidays, thank you.

Mr. Rogers Visits Friends in Glades

'Taking Nothing for Granted'

Incumbent Congressman Paul Rogers toured Belle Glade and Pahokee Tuesday "taking nothing for granted" in his race against Robert McBain.

McBain's candidacy came as a complete surprise to the party faithful. His only other venture into politics found him finishing third in a county sheriff race.

Some newspaper polls have Rogers garnering as much as 70 per cent of the vote. Rogers commented while in Belle Glade that he hoped those polls were right, but he was taking nothing for granted.

After touring Pahokee, Rogers dropped in on long time acquaintance George Wedgworth at the Sugar Cane Growers Co-Op sugar mill on Airport Rd. Wedgworth chatted with Rogers for a few minutes and then took him on a tour of one mill. Rogers was shown around the new construction and chatted with the workers on the job.

Rogers has always enjoyed strong support from the Glades. Tales of his observing on behalf of the community and individuals within the community have reached almost epic proportions during Rogers' almost two decades in Washington D.C.

If Rogers wins the primary he will win the general election since the Republican Party in the 11th District has seen fit to run no one against him. Rogers' voting record in Congress has been quite conservative over the years and he has drawn heavy support from Republican voters in the past.

"Now George, you have nothing to worry about what with the price of sugar as high as it is today," Congressman Paul Rogers seems to be admonishing old friend George Wedgworth Tuesday. But he really wasn't, having just stopped in Belle Glade to meet some of the people like Phyllis Harrington below as he runs for re-election as Congressman from the 11th District.

Now that school's started, students, teachers, and football fans are getting all geared up for that sport we've been waiting for since about 10 months ago - high school football. Glades Central High School starts its season off with a Jamboree on Sept. 6. Three other schools, Pahokee, Boca Raton and Martin County, are involved in the Jamboree which will be at Glades Central. This marks the first time the Raiders have ever been in a Jamboree.

Went out the other day to take some pictures of the varsity Raiders and they looked really impressive in their uniforms. Clark Lloyd seemed to tower over the others at first glance, but when I took a second look some of the others were also like hulking giants. Here I was, five foot five and all of 110 pounds, trying to push my way through 10 or 12 of them so I could get some pictures of several of the sections of the team. Talk about land of the giants!

Okay, maybe it is a slight exaggeration, but they did seem awfully big out there, especially with those pads on. Incidentally, the Raiders are one of the favorites to dominate the Suncoast Conference West, along with the Atlantic Eagles.

The Glades Women's Softball League held its A and B Allstar game last Thursday night.

The game was played in semi-darkness as the lights at Canal Point field couldn't decide to shine or not.

While we were in the outfield the lights out there were playing Follow the Leader. First one or two of the lights in rightfield would come on. A few minutes later the ones in centerfield would start shining, but then the rightfield lights would decide that's enough for while and flicker off. If they had more intensity, they would have looked like strobe lights out there. I could just see it-the strobe lights flickering on and off so the fielder would like a robot trying to catch the ball.

In spite of the lights, the game continued-and it was an exciting one all the way to the finish. Both teams played real tight ball and as a result, after six innings the score was tied one to one.

The visiting team, Team B, managed to edge ahead by one run in the top of the seventh, inning and it looked as if our team was going to lose.

But 'twasn't so. We came up in the bottom of the inning and Marie Langston crossed homeplate to even it up once more and we got a player on third and second, off a hard hit by Rose Goodbread. Then Sally Carter hit a fast grounder to the shortstop and the throw to homeplate was just a little too late as the player ran across it-and we had it by one run.

Although all of us players were jumping on each other and shouting and thumping each other, the happiest one out there had to be our good ole coach, Glenn Laney himself, whom we had drafted to help us.

He threw the team scorebook 20 feet in the air and just started whooping and hollering. But we knew he had two good reasons to be so excited. First, of course, was that we had won, and secondly, he didn't have to buy anyone a steak dinner.

He had told us girls as practice that if anyone hit a homerun the added over the fence later he would treat her to a steak dinner at the restaurant of her choice.

Luckily for him the only one who even came near the fence was Joy Busby, who walloped two doubles out there. On one of them everyone was holding her or his breath cuz it looked as if it might just make it-but not quite.

Anyway, he won't have to worry this time cuz we are trying to get the Pahokee field for the championship game between Team A and Timesaver. At this time of writing I don't know exactly when it will be, but it was to have been tried to set up for Wednesday night at 8:30 at the Pahokee field.

It was originally scheduled for Tuesday night, but due to several things happening, one of them being the South Bay election, we had to change the date.

Let ya know later how the Championship game turns out.

Hope you all folks enjoyed Labor Day weekend. Our family went to Kissimmee for a couple of days to visit Disney World again and maybe catch another one of the rapidly growing number of attractions around there.

Saturday night was the last night Disney stayed open until midnight. Believe it or not, the place wasn't all that crowded-at least by their standards. We didn't have any problems with the lines of people waiting to get on the rides. It usually takes anywhere from 10 to 45 minutes before being able to get on a ride or seeing the attraction.

It wasn't crowded at all-until we started to leave. Apparently everyone decided to go at the same time we did. What a crowd there was at the tram station! (The place where the trams pick you up and take you to where your car is in the parking area.)

We stood in line for 30 to 45 minutes and it still looked as if we weren't making any headway. Finally after battling it back and forth between us, we decided to take the chance and leg it.

We weren't the only ones doing it either. About a fourth of the crowd had the same idea, and most of them had already started out.

Luckily, our car wasn't all that far off and it only took about 10 minutes to find it.

One word of advice if you decide to go to Disney World in the future, don't wait until the last minute to leave the place.

Braves Talk

The story of Braves catcher Vic Correll reads right out of a story book.

"Once upon a time there was a young player for the Atlanta Braves who spent the first half of the season sitting on the bench. Then, the team started to flounder, and a new manager was hired. The only change the new manager made was to use the young catcher as a starter, and the team went on to have a winning record. And to top it off, the new starting catcher is the only Georgian playing big league baseball in his own home state."

Correll, who lives in Statesboro, Ga., was obtained last spring by the Braves from the Boston Red Sox organization, where he helped lead its Pawtucket farm team to the International League championship in 1972.

Most of this season he had been playing the number three catcher spot for the Braves behind Jim Oates and Paul Casanova. When Clyde King was named the Braves new manager at All-Star break, Correll was given the chance to play.

"I think I matured as a catcher about three years ago while playing for Darrell Johnson (now manager at Boston) in Louisville," Correll said. "My weak point in the game was my hitting, but I'm convinced I can hit .250 or .260 in this league, though."

Correll is a 27-year-old native of Florence, S.C., who went to Georgia Southern College in Statesboro to play baseball and then stayed to make the town his home. He hit .320 for Georgia Southern as the team finished third in the nation in the NAIA tournament that year.

Uniquely, the team that won the NAIA tournament the year that Correll played in it was Grambling College, led by Ralph Garri, who also plays for the Braves now.

To get into that tournament, Correll had the strongest pedigree of his baseball career. Georgia Southern had to play three games in one day-against Carson-Newman, to qualify, and they had to win all three - which they did. Correll caught all three games.

Correll works during the off-season for Marsh Hunting Reserve in Statesboro and is about to purchase a house there.

"I work very closely with Windel Marsh, the owner of the reserve," Vic said. "We have several deals that we're partners in, and I plan to make hunting reserve management my career. I've always loved hunting; I'd rather hunt than eat."

"Now, however, I just want to stay in here and keep doing the job for the Braves," he concluded.

TEASE TOPICS - As a crowd of 45,805 paid customers watched the Braves play the Phillies on Saturday, August 16, one husband of fans at Atlanta Stadium ranked among the most embarrassed people in Atlanta. They had traveled all the way to Atlanta from Nashville, parked their bus at Atlanta Stadium and tried to enter the gates. Only thing wrong was that their tickets were to the Falcons' game against Cincinnati that was being played at the same time across town at Grant Field. Braves camera day is coming up on Sunday, September 8th, when the Glades play at the Stadium at 2:15. Starting at 1 p.m., fans with cameras will be allowed on the field to take pictures of their favorite Braves players. (FRN)

BIG BAD RAIDERS POSE FOR TEAM PICTURE BEFORE START OF PRACTICE ...there are high hopes in Raider's Camp that Glades Central will win the state championship as it did in 1972

Raiders to Begin '74 Season

The Glades Central High School Raiders begin their football season this Friday night with a Jamboree beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Raiders will host Boca Raton, Martin County and Pahokee. The Competition includes punting for distance, kicking a field goal for distance, accurate throwing (for the quarter-backs), 40-yard dash for linemen, fastest backs and heavy-weight linemen over 225 pounds. The judges will pick two places in each race.

At 8 p.m. Martin County will kick off to Pahokee to begin the first quarter of for many losses and caused six fumbles. Boca Raton and Glades Central will play the second quarter, Pahokee against Boca Raton in the third quarter.

Defensive coaches Johnny Davis and Riley Foster Jr. were pleased but not entirely satisfied with the defensive play. They are looking for depth to spell the seasoned lettermen.

Offensively, Coaches Werneke and Jay Seider saw marked improvement over the previous Friday's scrimmage. Coach Werneke feels the squad is two weeks from putting it all together. He feels the Jamboree is just the thing to put the complete team together.

Library News -- Talking Books

TALKING BOOKS????

Among the more than 10 million residents of the United States who are disabled in some way, there are many who cannot use conventional printed material because of visual or physical impairments. For those who either cannot see to read print or cannot hold a book for an extended period of time, books are available in recorded form or in braille.

In the belief that reading is for everyone, the Library of Congress provides a program of free library service for people who cannot use printed formats.

By far the most widely used format in the library program is the talking book disc, which is produced in 16 rpm format, to give 45 minutes of playing time per disc, and in 8 rpm for magazines. Talking books are playable on phonographs specially designed for ease of operation.

All talking books and braille books are mailed postage free. Talking book photographs are shipped free of charge to each talking book reader on extended loan for as long as the reader needs it.

Readers may choose current bestsellers, classic novels, mysteries, poetry, the Bible, and wide variety of nonfiction titles. Many popular magazines reflect a broad range of tastes and interests are also available, including American Heritage, Good Housekeeping, Sports Illustrated, Newsweek, and Reader's Digest.

Each regional library maintains a collection of books available in the national program. The PALM BEACH COUNTY LIBRARY now has this new service--TALKING BOOKS FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED. To be eligible to use this service a person must have any one of the following limitations:

legal blindness, visual impairment, inability to hold a book, inability to turn pages, blurred or double vision, extreme weakness or excessive fatigue, or any other physical limitation preventing him from reading regular print books.

APPLICATION FORMS for this service are AVAILABLE at the BELLE GLADE MUNICIPAL LIBRARY.

Work a Must For Food Stamps

Washington, D.C.—Under a proposed regulation announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, an individual who wants to retain eligibility for food stamps program benefits would have to accept a job which requires joining a bona fide labor organization recognized by the National Labor Relations Act. The regulation would not require the recipient to join a company union.

In order to participate in the food stamp program all recipients, with certain exceptions, must register for and accept employment. Current regulations, however, permit a recipient to refuse a job in which he is required to join, resign from or refrain from joining any legitimate labor organization. The proposed amendment is in line with regulations for the Work Incentive Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Public comments are invited on the proposed regulation which is scheduled for publication in the Federal Register on Wed., Aug. 21. Written comments may be mailed or delivered to Royal Shippi, Acting Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, so as to be received not later than Sept. 20, 1974. Comments received will be open to public inspection.

Education Ranks High in Church

Education ranks high in priorities for Seventh-day Adventist church giving, according to Pastor H. Bame of the local Belle Glade church.

Proof of the fact comes in a listing of nine school projects slated from the Belle Glade church's Missions Extension Fund this year.

The schools, says Pastor Bame, range from New Guinea to Maharashtra (India). And they run in rank from a new little grade school in Cayes, South Haiti, to a library building for the Phoenix Adventist College in Mauritius, in the Indian Ocean area, and a residence for student nurses at Andrews Memorial Hospital in Kingston, Jamaica.

An exception to the educational list of mission projects, the Pastor says, is the inauguration of two new medical launches on the Amazon River in Brazil. The church operates more than a dozen such launches in its outreach to the isolated villages of the vast Amazon hinterlands, he says.

Even this launch work is tied in closely with the educational work, for at regular launch stops the mission usually establishes a clinic and eventually the people request a school. Then the problem becomes one of personnel to adequately staff the schools, Pastor Bame stated.

Currently the denomination operates more than 4,500 schools and colleges throughout nearly 200 countries of the world. To maintain this and other aspects of the church's broad mission program, members give heavily. Mission offerings last year totaled $36.5 million.

The Parson Pontificates

Do you know what real Christianity is? It is not believing in God; the devil believe and tremble. (James 2:19). It isn't recognizing that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; the evil spirits did that and begged for mercy (St. Mark 5:6-15). It is not keeping the Commandments; a rich young ruler did that and still went away in sorrow (Matthew 19:16-22). It is not being religious; the Athenian pagans were religious, but missed the way (Acts 17:22, RSV). Christianity is a way of life based on Christlike love. If anyone is to be a Christian he must walk that Way. It is not just what you believe, but how you live that makes the difference. (See Matthew 7:21).

Listen to That Still Small Voice

Almost every day, you entertain a strong desire to go somewhere or do something that may be questionable in nature. But, that still small voice says, "No, that's not for you." Listen To That Still Small Voice.

Almost every day, you feel an urge to help someone help himself or herself. But you just don't have the time. And that still small voice says, "Go ahead. Find the time. You'll find happiness, too." Listen To That Still Small Voice.

Almost every day, you're sorely tempted to say something in the heat of irritation or frustration. But, that inner, better you switches the signal and seals your lips. Listen To That Still Small Voice.

Almost every day, you have occasion to speak out for the right. But, you're cautious.

You don't want to get involved. And then the still small voice overrules your caution, and opens your mouth. Listen To That Still Small Voice.

You can believe in your better, inner self. Your Creator gave you a conscience. Your folks nurtured and shaped it, when they taught you right from wrong. You yourself strengthened it, when you resisted temptation, and insisted on consecration. Listen To That Still Small Voice.

As you move through life, you'll realize that your inner self is never really still nor small. It whispers right from wrong with every breath, and grows as you grow to serve mankind.

You'll hear it loud and clear at your place of worship this week.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Matter, Georgia

Looking for slippers? Try these on for size. An ad reads, "You can walk through darkened rooms without the risk of tripping with our built-in headlight slippers. Batteries are pocketed in the heels. The lights are turned on or off by wiggling the big toes."

But long ago one discovered something better than a light for slippers. It is a light for souls. He confided in Psalm 119:105, "Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

The Bible delights with development. Just as the flower can never blossom without the sunlight, neither can our lives flower with grace and beauty until they are irradiated with the light of the Bible.

The Bible dispels the darkness. Often we find ourselves "in the dark." We wonder, "Why am I here? Where am I going? Which way shall I take?" The Bible has the answer to all our questions, the solution to all our problems.

The Bible delivers from dangers. The Psalmist said, "I came so close to the edge of the cliff. My feet were slipping. I was almost gone." What saved him? He said to the Lord, "Your counsel." He used this lamp. I am using it. Are you?

RIGHTLY DIVIDING THE WORD

"Dear Mr. Swaim: I have friends who tell me that I should read the Old Testament in order to strengthen my faith, but to be truthful, I don't like the Old Testament. I'm not getting much out of it. It's difficult to read and understand."

I can't disagree with you that the Old Testament is difficult to read, especially some parts, but it is one of the most profitable studies one can make. It does require in-depth research. A superficial study will not do. I would advise you to first master the New Testament. You would be amazed at how it opens many doors of understanding. This can be applied to your Old Testament study. But the law and the prophets pointed forward to Christ. Christ is revealed in prophecy in numerous ways in the Old Testament. He is the sacrificial offering in Isaiah's ritual of worship referred to in John 1:29. In the book of Exodus, the Israelites were told to sprinkle the blood of the lamb on the door post and thus cause the angel of death to pass over their first born. This passage lamb represented Christ. Christ is the prophet foretold by Moses, the seed promised to Abraham by whom the earth would be blessed, and the everlasting king promised to David from his descendants, and the Messiah described by the prophets. The entire Bible speaks of Christ. As someone said, the New Testament is concealed in the Old, the Old Testament is revealed in the New.

Has Four Stops

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade area mobile aluminum recycling unit has 4 stops scheduled at City Park, 500 W. Canal Street during September. The area brought in 342,608 all-aluminum cans last month, for which Reynolds Metals Co. paid out $2,234.40. Reynolds pay 15 cents per pound for all-aluminum cans on Thursdays, Sept. 5, 12, 19 & 26 from 1:00 p.m. till 2:30 p.m. at City Park.

Area residents are urged to separate all-aluminum cans and other household aluminum scrap from their refuse, said Paul Hayden, Reynolds regional recycling manager. "It doesn't take long for a household to accumulate all-aluminum beverage cans, and at the redeemable rate of 15 cents per pound, it's quite worthwhile for a family to save the aluminum scrap," Hayden added.

Families can redeem the cans themselves, or donate them to a neighborhood school or organization sponsoring an aluminum can drive. With the 1974-75 school year just beginning, many public and private schools will find collecting all-aluminum cans for recycling a good ecological venture, as well as a means for raising additional funds to finance various classroom projects.

Big 'Disney On Parade' Show For West Palm Beach Auditorium Soon

BIG LIVE SHOW—All the favorite Disney characters open the all-new "Disney On Parade" Fourth Edition proclaiming "How Dee Do!" "It's Whacha Do With Whacha Got!" The 2½-hour extravaganza appears at the West Palm Beach Auditorium, Sept. 24-29. Tickets are $3.50, $4.50 and $5.50 with children 12 and under $1.00 off on all performances.

Disney on Parade Coming Sept. 24-29

Mickey Mouse stars in the all-new and different Fourth Edition of "Disney On Parade" as the Sorcerer's Apprentice, a role that makes motion picture history, appearing at the West Palm Beach Auditorium, Sept. 24-29 for 9 performances.

The peak of Mickey's Golden Decade was the starring role in the feature, "Fantasia", 1940, a major artistic innovation from Disney. It interpreted music in colors, shapes, movement, and story.

The animation techniques, years ahead of their time, could never be matched again. "Fantasia" also introduced stereophonic sound, an element not employed by other studios until two decades later. The film received a Special Technical Academy Award.

Although Mickey Mouse appeared in 122 cartoons, "Fantasia" was the peak of his feature motion picture appearance.

In the opening production number of "Disney On Parade", the 2½-hour extravaganza, the characters flood the stage for a personal greeting telling the audience "How Dee Do!" and "It's Whacha Do With Whacha Got!"

Among the characters showing what they've got are

Donald Duck with his inimitable "Squawk-talk" and waddle; the Big Bad Wolf who misses the Three Little Pigs with his huffing and puffing but hits a birthday cake and candle dead center; that lovable chicken, Fievel, who usually ends up alone; Goofy who simply can't remember what he's "got", and Mickey Mouse.

Disney characters bring two carts on stage, one containing a rag doll in pieces and the second with four large children's blocks. The character stacks the blocks and Mickey leaps from the tower of blocks by magic to greet the audience. And Mickey shows what he learned as the Sorcerer's Apprentice. With the help of the Disney characters they assemble the legs, arms, top and head of the rag doll. When Mickey throws his special magic dust in the air the giant doll comes alive to dance around the stage with Mickey.

Again as in the film, Mickey throws more magic dust in the air and two giant brooms appear carrying water buckets. The doll and brooms turn the tables and it's Mickey who is chased off the live stage. Among the many other characters appearing in the opening production number are Alice in Wonderland, White Rabbit, Tinker Bell, Daisy Duck, Pinocchio, Puss in Boots, Gideon, Jimmy Cricket, Geppetto, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs and Evil Witch, King Lion, Winnie the Pooh, Eeyore, Toy Soldiers, and Mowgli.

Performance times are Tuesday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. with matinees on Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. and Sunday at 2:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m.

Tickets are priced $3.50, $4.50 and $5.50 with children 12 and under $1.00 off on all performances. WPTV will sponsor opening night with all tickets half price. Tickets may be purchased at the Auditorium box office, Richards at the Mall and Sears Stores.

Tickets are available by mail by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope with check to "Disney On Parade", West Palm Beach Auditorium, 1610 Palm Beach Lakes Blvd., West Palm Beach, Fla. 33402.

One of 90 Chosen

Miss Carolyn J. Pelka, of South Bay has been accepted at Pensacola Christian College, as one of 90 students in its first year of operation.

Pensacola Christian College opened its doors Tuesday to the members of its first student body. The four-year liberal arts school, located on Rawson Lane, welcomed 90 students hailing from 20 states.

Dr. A. R. Horton, college President, said that the opening of the college marked an epic milestone in the history of Pensacola Christian Schools. This year represents a growth from a three-room schoolhouse to an enrollment of over 3,000 students in levels from kindergarten to college.

In addition to the daytime schedule, the college will offer an Evening Division with registration set for Thursday at Pensacola Christian High School of St. John Street at 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Although the college is starting with freshman and sophomore year groups only, the junior and senior classes will be added during the next two years. The first graduates will be the class of 1977.

The first units of the college campus consist of an ultra-modern residence hall with adjoining classroom complex. They boast all of the finest features of small college design.

The requests for enrollments from many states totalled well over 100. Although Florida is the most represented state in the Union, students have arrived from all parts of the country from California and Washington to Virginia and the Carolinas.

Vice President of the college is Mr. A. A. Baker, Dean of the College is Mr. Ronald S. Gowin, native Pensacolan. Dr. Max Barnes is the Dean of Students.

Present construction on the college represents a half-million dollars. A similar expenditure is planned for the near future.
